

Dwellingup Mining Avoidance Zone

FACT SHEET

Alcoa has created a mining avoidance zone covering Dwellingup and surrounds, enhancing protection of local environmental, lifestyle, ecotourism and recreational values.

8,344ha*

Has been permanently removed from Alcoa's mine plans

Any potential future Alcoa mining operations will be at least 3km and in some areas more than 6km from Dwellingup town centre.

This commitment protects:

- About 5,000ha of forest
- Important animal habitat including for Black-Cockatoos
- About 15km of the Bibbulmun Track
- About 16km of the Munda Biddi Trail
- Marrinup Trail

*This area includes private properties and other land holdings.

Note: Any potential future mining by Alcoa outside of its avoidance zone would be subject to environmental assessment and approval.
